militee also last night decided to clean the reservoir at a cost of $5,000.

Her Friends Alarmed.

Though it is deemed improbable that Mrs. Brown ended her life by jumping into the reservoir, there is grave fear that she has committed suicide. The only other theory is that she became disappointed at her life in Richmond and sought to leave home and friends without fear of being followed by giving the apprehension that she had committed suicide. She returned from a visit to her parents in Brooklyn, N. Y. two weeks ago, and, according to her husband, she came back a changed woman. He could assign no reasons for this change in her demeanor, and said that they had lived happilly together.

But friends stated that she had appeared to be deeply dejected and unhappy, whether on account of mancial troubles or of domestic infelicity they could not say. On Saturday morning while she was greating she told has whet the says to the last the says to the

The Original Sugar combine, the petition sets forth, was the Sugar Refineries Company, which was formed in August, 1887, under the lead of H. O. Havemeyer, and embraced companies which together carried on 20 per cent, of the interstate and fore'gn sugar irade of the country.

Within two years after the formation of the original company, it is charged, the combination closed twelve refineries. In 1839 it obtained the Independent California, Company, leaving
